

Serological surveillance (blood sampling)

HELP PROTECT THE UK

We are collecting blood samples to look at the background immunity of the general population to Coronavirus.

How can you help?

If you are coming to see your GP for a prescheduled blood test, you will be asked if an additional bottle of blood can be collected.

Please note: as we are not testing for the presence of coronavirus, there will be no results to send back to your general practice. Please refer to the patient information sheet for further information.
